Your Voice is the Loudest One We Hear !!!

Often in this industry, your voice gets lost in a sea of good-natured advice and overly excited "help". We want to hear from you and be your partner in creating the day you envision.

Whether you are planning the wedding day of your dreams, or your next corporate or social function, we are prepared to make it happen.

A Full Service Planning Company

You are our most valuable asset. We plan your event according to your wishes, dreams and expectations. With your vision in constant focus, we will make it happen. Whether you want to play a major "hands on" role in the planning, want us to handle all of the details from planning to execution, or just need advice and consultation, we make a great team.

Commitment and Service

Our services range from Consultation Only to a complete Comprehensive Service. We will save you valuable time and money through our own efforts and vendor relationships.

No matter what capacity you choose to utilize our services, our commitment to you is unmatched. Our ability and experience in creating events in both the corporate and social arenas make us a very flexible company to work with. For example, we have experience in wedding consulting, planning and execution, business awards ceremonies and meetings, social celebrations, large outdoor occasions, etc.
